Yesterday afternoon, it was currently re-rted on the streets that the Quartermaster Headquarters, Gen M. P. Small, had re-ived authority to draw checks on the U. S. epository at Tucson, in payment of debts is contractors and others. Strange to say, is "news" was pronounced "no good," even people who, for months past, had been aying for money due them by Government. And why? Because the Tucn Depository is nearly 300 miles from this ace, in a town with the people of which ose of Northern Arizona have scarcely any siness dealings, which fact, taken in conection with the risk and uncertainty of nding checks by mail, makes the news arse and warse. Furthermore, were the centracks here (in private hands) which ey are not, from three to five per cent disont would be charged for the exchange, less people who have laid out of money te for months, and borrowed at high rates interest in order to carry out their agreeents with Government, cannot afford to

To say the creditors of our "Uncle," and hundreds of people to whom said creditors to indebted, feel hostile over this repetition a very unjust case of circumlocution, is atting it very mild, indeed. And, in the eneral "war talk," our delegate in Congress, ho has been petitioned and frequently relested to use his influence for the establish-ent of some sort of a depository at Prescott, as been pretty well "tongue lashed," by peo-le who aver that either his boasted influence t Washington was and is neighty little, or, e is interested with the depository at Tuc-on. Rev G. A. Reeder preached in the court-room, yesterday. We learn that he will soon visit the people of other places in the Territory. For quite a while past, he has devoted a great deal of his time to working upon the building that is to be a church.

One of D. Hazard's (mule) freight trains passed through town yesterday afternoon, with immense loads of lumber from the Quartz Mountain saw-mill, which lumber is destined for Camp Verde. Mr Junior, who was with the train, informed us that the road between this place and the mill was, in places, almost bottomless,

Mr P. C. Gayety is doing every fair thing in his power to develop the mineral resources aroung his station, on the Camp Verde road. It is but a few months since he settled near the old Government saw-mill site, on Cherry This confederate is believed to be a creek, and built a station, out-houses, corrals etc., yet he is, to-day, running said station, working mines, fencing some agricultural land and advertising the resources of his section of the country, all of which proves that he is not "waiting for capital."

Fred. Williams thinks he owns and "edits" the handsomest saloon in Prescott, and it is an orderly place, too. An immense mirror, just received from San Francisco, several fine, chaste pictures, etc., are the latest attractions of the place.

[From Tuesday's Daily.]

KNOTS of business men were seen and heard by us this morning discussing the action, or, rather, non-action of the acting chief quartermaster of this military department, who, they stated, had, for a week past, instructions to draw checks on the Depository at Tucson, in payment of accounts due citizens of this Territory by the War Department, but who, instead of having done so, pleaded want of time, clerks, etc., thus baffling our business people and adding to the monetary pressure now prevailing, mainly on account of the failure on the part of Government disbursing officers to act squarely with Arizonans who have credited the Government. We yesterday said sufficient to show the injustice of withholding this money for months after it should have been paid out; also, the great wrong of forcing contractors and others to take depreciated paper on the U. S. Depository at Tucson, instead of greenbacks or drafts on the U. S. Sub-Treasurer at San Francisco, and we now assert that, were any business course similar to that which Government has pursued here, said house would be

The quartermaster's department here is said to have to its credit at Tucson something like $160,000, which is due our citizens, some of whom think it would be no more than fair for Gen Crook to send a trusty person and escort for said money, and, upon its arrival here place it in one of those huge safes at Headquarters, in charge of one of the several bonded officers of the Department. But, if this cannot be conveniently done, those who are clamoring for their money want their checks right away, in such amounts as will enable them to pay small debts, and not in large amounts, such as, they say, the acting Q. (From Thursday's Daily.)

Mr Hugh McCrum, one of the partners of the San Francisco liquor house of J. M Goewey & Co., arrived here this morning, by buckboard, from Tucson, and will take a look at our mines previous to starting for the city. Mr McC is the gentleman with whom S. R. DeLong, of Tucson, has made a bet on the result of a horseback ride to San Francisco. Mr McC. gives an interesting account of his stay on the Gila and Salt, when those rivers were "booming," and how, when crossing the raging Salt, on a buckboard, all hands came within an ace of drowing. He speaks C. P. HEAD. JAKE MARKS. of Joe Collingwood, of Florence, as being the "whitest" man he has ever met. Joe is several carats finer than two-thirds of his race.

It is our painful duty to record the death of Mr H. Penelon, a gentleman who arrived here but a few weeks ago from California, in company with his partner, Mr Flanders, on a professional tour through the Territory. His demise occurred at 5 o'clock this morning, from internal hemorrhage. He was a native of Lyons, France, about fifty years of age, and resided at Los Angeles, California, where he leaves a wite and two children to mourn his loss.

His funeral will take place at 2 o'clock to morrow, from the residence of Mr Wm. M. Buffum.

A gentleman who arrived here last night, direct from Ehrenberg, on the Colorado river, says that a Mexican who had used up his money and credit in that town took a GENERAL MERCHANDISE crowbar and wooden pan, started for the old placer diggings this side of Ehrenberg, sunk a shaft 21 feet deep, panned out in one evening, $300, and the next day, about $1,200, all in large pieces of gold. Other Mexicans were flocking there, expecting to pan out ome of the golden pie. Verily, Arizona's golden wealth is scarcely scratched.

Two THOUSAND DOLLARS REWARD is offered by J. M. Bryan for the capture of Nelson, the human fiend who recently attempted to assassinate George Bryan. When last seen, the assassin was near Bill Smith's mill, below Wickenburg. It may be that he has gone to Sonora, Mexico.

People here have not yet got over won-

Maple sugar is a luxury in Arizona. Bashford keeps it.

The people of Arizona are bitterly complaining over the length of time which they have to wait for the disbursement of funds from the Quartermaster's Department. It appears that the funds are not sent to Arizona for several months after they are due, which often occasions serious an-noyances and even losses to business men. The hard times also affect the Indians. One horse will now purchase two Apache women, and the owner of the women will throw in a dog or two rather than spoil a trade.—[Salt Lake News.

Considering that the fellow who wrote the above is one of Brigham's eunuchs we are at no loss to account for his fling at the people of Arizona, who treat all women (Apache women included) with all the respect due
